New Galliano Government Complex to Partially Open Monday Offices of Coastal Zone Management and the District Attorney will be First to Open

The new Galliano Government Complex will open its doors to the public for the first time this Monday, May 4, 2009. The complex is located in "Suite B" of the South Lafourche Library building which is located along LA Highway 308 in Galliano, just north of the South Lafourche Bridge.

On Monday, the offices of Coastal Zone Management, Les Reflections du Bayou and the Lafourche Parish District Attorney will open for the first time at the new Galliano Government Complex, having moved from the Galliano Annex building. These will be the only three offices located at the new building at this time.

This new Galliano office will eventually house permanent offices for the Clerk of Court, Registrar of Voters and Community Action, which are all still currently located at the Galliano Annex on LA Highway 1. There will also be offices designated for Veterans' Affairs representatives and for elected officials to meet with constituents when necessary. Announcements will be made regarding the move of each of these other entities in the coming weeks.

Starting Monday, anyone needing to visit the office(s) of Coastal Zone Management, Les Reflections du Bayou and the Lafourche Parish District Attorney should enter through the main entrance to the South Lafourche Library and proceed toward the double wooden doors to the left.
